Influence Education Policies unlocking the potential of Agile2Learn

Harness agile methodologies and foster educational innovation. Agile2Learn modules offer insights into agile principles, project management, effective communication, teamwork, and self-management. Drive policy changes that promote agile learning in classrooms across the region. Shape the future of education policy!

What we offer:

- Blended learning course for educators – 21 training modules to enhance transversal competencies (agile, digital and transversal) of educators + workplace learning guide to implement in their classroom.
- Communities of Practice platform – a platform for sharing experiences and best practices around the implementation of the new education approach (you can learn about professionals' experiences, ask questions or network with more than 200 users already on the platform)
- Agile2Lean Curriculum – framework of our training structure for the use in development of innovative education policies
